

Recent highlights and upcoming events

A challenge was raised at our September Annual Meeting. We voted to complete 100 league meetings by the 100th anniversary of LWVUS. Member leagues are uniquely positioned to be effective educating for sustainable water resources but we need your help! Please contact LWVLMR state delegates and board members with your ideas and requests for programmatic assistance to make this goal of 100 meetings become a reality. This is how we make democracy work!

Informational Webinar: November 5

At the ILO level, we partner with like-minded organizations that share LWV positions and can supply educational updates and advocacy options for the communities we serve. On November 5 at noon CST, Senior Policy Analyst Karen Hobbs of the NRDC will host a webinar for us on the Clean Water Act, which continues to be in the news. Details for participation will be posted at LWVLMR.org during the first week of November. Please save the date, and encourage anyone who drinks water to join us for this important event.

Annual Conference re-cap

An article which can be used in local newsletters can now be found on our website. Photos are also posted. More than 150 people participated in the event, with informational field trips, League partners, strategists and other clean water experts involved.

Jeanette Neagu - Winner of Advocacy Award

Jeanette, of LWV LaPorte County, IN received the 2015 Art Palleon Advocacy Award for her tireless work on behalf of clean water. Jeanette inspires us all to stay engaged!

Thanks to Treasurers Marge and Pam

We are grateful to Marge Palleon of LWV Ozaukee County, WI for her outstanding work as the LWVLMR Treasurer for the past few years, and we welcome Pam Nelson-Icenogle of LWV Ripon Area, WI for stepping up to this role. Thanks also to the many local leagues which have paid their dues in a timely fashion as this reduces the workload on our all-volunteer organization.

Be sure to check our News Page for the latest on what we and other Leagues are doing on water issues.

Please let us or your state delegates know what you are doing locally -- let's celebrate our successes and learn from each other.

SAVE THE DATES!

Next year's Annual Meeting: October 14-15, 2016
The Craft and Art of Saving Lake Michigan, will be in Indiana.
